

Applied Sociology

By Faith Grant, Social Sciences

This research was supported by the Valerie Kuehne Undergraduate Research Awards, University of Victoria and supervised by Bruce Ravelli

Bruce Ravelli and I have created a resource for applied sociology and community engagement. Members of this discipline as well as people with interest in this field now have a space to find research taken place in the community, classes with community involvement, and community partners who make this engagement possible.

In order to do this we researched over 150 institutions across Canada and arranged the findings into the website to make it simple and accessible to retrieve information.

Here we are searching for results under the letter U and are about to click on results for Community-Based Research as well.

Here is a picture of the website that showcases how to alter your search to find what is specified and applicable to yourself and your research.

Here are a few examples of specifications you can make for your search. You can choose more than one, the type of work they're doing and what it relates to as well.
