Making Excuses and the Blame Game

Thursday, 12 October | 6:30 p.m.

David Strong Building, Rm C103

Presented by the Department of Philosophy

Public life has recently seen some spectacular displays of defensiveness and seemingly unending iterations of the blame game. To know what to make of these phenomena, we need a better account of their inner workings. In this talk, moral philosopher Professor Pamela Hieronymi (known to a wider audience through her work as ethics consultant on the NBC show "The Good Place") uses the tools of philosophical analysis to offer such an account.

UVic's Public Lectures Series features accomplished individuals from a vast array of academic and research endeavours. As host of this lecture series, UVic continues its commitment to making a vital impact on people, places and the planet.
